

HW Capital is the private investment holding of serial entrepreneurs Robert Haselsteiner and Marcus Wolsdorf. We invest in selected private and publicly listed companies with attractive long-term prospects and strong entrepreneurial management teams who have skin in the game and understand capital allocation. Where appropriate, we actively engage with management and pursue sustainable value creation and fair value distribution among all stakeholders. To strengthen our investment team in Munich, we are looking for a

Research Professional (full-time, m/f/d)

Your tasks:

- Conduct investment research on industries and companies (strategic and financial)
- Research and interpret financial and technical reports
- Conduct management meetings
- Analyze and distill information into a useable form
- Form and express opinions on the risk/return profile of opportunities
- Present research results to decision makers and participate in investment decisions
- Work closely with the principals and the existing investment team

Requirements:

- Passion for investing: you should wake up and go to bed thinking about investments
- Sense of urgency
- Ability to process large amounts of data – highly analytical
- Entrepreneurial “can-do” mindset
- Excellent communication skills and ability to influence decision-makers
- High integrity and trustworthiness
- Degree in a related field
- Experience in investment research
- CFA highly appreciated
- Sense of humor

Our offer:

- Broad spectrum of interesting investment topics
- Competitive compensation
- Small team with flat hierarchies
- Daily interaction with the principals

If this sparks your interest, please send your CV to siegfried.meffert@hwcapital.de.