

About HW Capital:

HW Capital is the private investment holding company of Robert Haselsteiner and Marcus Wolsdorf with a focus on public equity and venture capital.

To strengthen our team, we are looking for an:

Visiting Analyst / Intern (m/f)

Your tasks:

- You are supporting the investment team in public equity (the majority of time) and venture capital investments
- Supporting of due diligence of listed companies to create a deep understanding of industry dynamics, market fundamentals, and business models
- Conducting market research, financial modelling, management calls and meetings
- Developing clear investment hypotheses
- Discussing your findings with the team during investment meetings

Your profile:

- Entrepreneurial mindset, natural passion for investing, and strong curiosity for public equity and venture capital
- Pragmatic and independent style of working – you make it happen
- Open personality with strong communication skills and low ego
- Coding experience to improve software tools is a plus (i.e., python, Java)
- Fluid in English and German, other languages are a plus (i.e. Chinese)
- You have completed your bachelor degree or you are close to graduation
- You have 3-6 months of free time
- Good sense of humor

Our offer:

- Broad spectrum of interesting tasks
- Steep learning curve and own responsibility
- Highly motivated team with flat hierarchies
- Freedom for implementation of own ideas
- Attractive salary and opportunity to co-invest
- Potential option to join the firm after graduation

Have we sparked your interest? Send your complete application (CV incl. grades and motivational letter) to info@hwcapital.de.

We are looking forward to your application!